

SKAGIT COUNTY FAMILY RECOVERY COURT

ABOUT US:

Family Recovery Court (FRC) is a voluntary therapeutic court program for parents of children involved in the dependency court process. To qualify, you must be 18 years of age or older, have an active dependency case, and be willing to engage in a substance use evaluation and follow all treatment recommendations. If you're interested in joining FRC, talk to your attorney, social worker, or Guardian Ad Litem.

WHY FRC?

- ✓ A team of professionals will support your success
- ✓ The court will provide accountability to help keep you on track
- ✓ You will have access to rental assistance, child care, and job training
- ✓ FRC Families are 14% more likely to reunify and 12% more likely to stay together
- ✓ FRC helps parents achieve a lifestyle free from substance use while creating healthy family relationships
